

HLNDV Fall Career Development Program: Early Careerist Event

Join HLNDV on November 8 in Philadelphia to learn more about career path opportunities in healthcare administration. Early or even mid-careerists often say, "I wish I could have that person's job," but the steps needed to get there are murky. This event will help address this gap by providing the opportunity to connect with mid- to late career professionals across the healthcare spectrum in small interactive group discussions.

Participants will take part in two 30-minute small group discussions each concentrating on a focus area. A mid- to late careerist experienced in the area will lead the discussion, sharing his/her journey and answering questions. Learning about the breadth of opportunities from professionals who have lived the roles each day can offer great advice to individuals starting their career or to others looking for a possible career change.
