

Alex Waad, MA

Alex Waad (they / he) is a health equity research-practitioner addressing health disparities within LGBTQIA+ communities. Alex works with LGBTQIA+ patients and families as a clinical health coach, and conducts research to advance culturally and linguistically responsive care for communities historically underserved by health systems. Alex is pursuing their doctorate in Health Behavior Science at the University of Delaware, focusing on LGBTQIA+ health and cannabis use.